

mumok

Floorplan

 	5	Lounge
	4	The World of Tomorrow Will Have Been Another Present
	3	The World of Tomorrow Will Have Been Another Present
	2	Never Final! The Evolving Museum
Café Library Administration	1
 	0	Tobias Pils Shh
	-1	Friedrich Kiesler Endless House
Art Education Studio	-2	Tobias Pils Shh
  	-3	Claudia Pagès Rabal Feudal Holes
mumok cinema	-4	Mapping the 60s Art Histories from the mumok Collections

Tobias Pils

Shh

Tobias Pils is among the most exciting painters working today. This most comprehensive exhibition of his work to date traces the evolution of his artistic practice over the past decade.

27.09.2025–17.05.2026

The World of Tomorrow

Will Have Been Another Present

The exhibition brings together works of Classical Modernism—whose influence resonates to this day—with contemporary artistic positions. It presents art that raises pressing questions—beyond the boundaries of time.

23.05.2025–17.05.2026

Never Final!

The Evolving Museum

The exhibition focuses on the changes the Museum moderner Kunst underwent in the 1980th. This project sees itself less as a traditional exhibition and more as a platform for collective research, learning, and investigation.

28.03.2025–03.05.2026

Mapping the 60s

Art Histories from the mumok Collections

The exhibition Mapping the 60s is based on the thought that substantial sociopolitical movements of the twenty-first century have their roots in the 1960s.

05.07.2024–19.04.2026

Claudia Pagès Rabal

Feudal Holes

With videos, sculptures, and drawings, Claudia Pagès Rabal's exhibition explores historical and contemporary flows of goods, capital, and value that reinforce power structures.

04.12.2025–19.04.2026

mumok perspectives

Accompanying the exhibitions, mumok perspectives is a participatory digital program that expands scope for communication in the polyphonic practice of art education.

Whether at home, traveling, or here in the museum: the mumok perspectives are available free of charge via QR Code.

